Getting an activation key during active subscription

In some cases you may receive an email with an activation key while you still have an active Parallels Toolbox subscription in your account (or there's a Parallels Desktop for Mac subscription which includes Toolbox). Then you need to register the key in your Parallels account at my.parallels.com > Register Key and select whether you would like to register it as a separate subscription, if you plan to use it on another Mac, or extend one of the existing subscriptions.
