

"File does not exist" error message while uploading a file

- Parallels Remote Application Server

Symptoms

When uploading files into published application from MacOS Parallels Client the following error message appears:

Cause

File names in MacOS are key sensitive, but some Windows applications can recognize only lower case letters in the file path.

Resolution

Use only lower case letters in file names.

© 2025 Parallels International GmbH. All rights reserved. Parallels, the Parallels logo and Parallels Desktop are registered trademarks of Parallels International GmbH. All other product and company names and logos are the trademarks or registered trademarks of their respective owners.