

Can Awingu be used without an LDAP server or Active Directory?

- Parallels Secure Workspace

Resolution

Each Awingu domain is linked to an LDAP server, which is most commonly an Active Directory Domain Controller.

Other LDAP servers may work, but are not tested nor officially supported.

However, the RD Session Hosts do NOT need to be part of a Windows domain. It's possible to configure per application whether the user needs to manually enter credentials.

The only local (non-LDAP) user is the built-in management user.
